

Garden of the Gods & BTMR Event Waiver High School Aid Station Volunteers

1. I understand and assume all risks of injury to my person which may occur while volunteering for any events sponsored and/or managed by Pikes Peak Marathon, Inc. and I, for myself and for my heirs, executor, administrator, personal representative, and assigns, do hereby forever waive and release all rights and claims for direct or indirect damages or losses, whether monetary or otherwise compensatory which I may have against any and all individuals, and indemnify them for all claims, damages, judgments, costs of whatever nature and form.

2. I hereby grant full permission to Pikes Peak Marathon, Inc., to use my picture, or likeness on any media or form and any other record of my participating in any or all events for any publicity and/or promotional purpose(s) without obligation to me or my successors, assigns, et all., or liability by the publisher or promoter.

3. If I am volunteering for the Barr Trail Mountain Race, I am aware that the following are some but not all of the special conditions and factors which may be encountered during this event, and that there may be other hazards:

Course elevations are from more than 6000 feet to more than 10,000 feet above mean sea level with attendant low humidity and variable, extreme, and rapid temperature changes. In general, the weather should be considered variable with rapid and potentially extreme temperature changes, precipitation and wind. The temperature may vary from 50° to 80° F in Manitou Springs to 30° F and colder at Barr Camp with high winds and the possibility of severe storms accompanied by rain, snow, lightning, or ice showers. Ultraviolet radiation exposure should be considered as extreme. Most of the course for the BTMR race uses the Barr Trail beginning at the Cog Railway. The trail is not paved, and the footpath surface may be dirt, gravel, or rocks, with abrupt elevation changes, sharp turns, and steep grades. Ice or snow may be encountered on the footpath. Because of the inaccessibility of most portions of the course to motorized vehicles there may be delays in providing emergency medical assistance. Transport off the mountain for the BTMR involves motor vehicles with attendant hazardous road conditions, mechanical failure, or accident.

4. If I am volunteering for the Garden of the Gods 10M/10K, I am aware that the following are some but not all of the special conditions and factors which may be encountered during the event, and that there may be other hazards:

Course elevations are from more than 6,000 feet. In general, the weather should be considered variable with rapid and potentially extreme temperature changes precipitation and wind. The temperature may vary from 50° to 80° F in the Garden of the Gods Park. Ultraviolet radiation exposure should be considered as extreme.

5. I attest that I am in good physical condition and mentally capable of volunteering for the event for which I am registering and that any and all questions about the event, including but not limited to the dangers of participating in said event, have been satisfactorily answered. I also acknowledge that should I require transport to a medical facility that I must pay for such transportation and any treatment provided. I further agree to abide by requests of race officials on matters concerning race operations.

6. By submitting this entry, I acknowledge (or a parent or adult guardian for all children under 18 years) having read and agreed to the above release and waiver.
